

Richard Smedley Chartered Accountants & Business Advisers, are a chartered accountancy firm, which specialises in the needs of a wide range of private clients: anything from care homes and entrepreneurs to design agencies and wholesalers.

They build relationships with their clients, going the extra mile and making it simple for them, and they genuinely care about helping clients to become even more successful.

Richard Smedley Chartered Accountants & Business Advisers, have been of the forefront of working with Jumpstart to maximise R&D tax credits for their clients.

“ One of the best things about working with Jumpstart is that the whole process from screening through to setting up the initial meeting and analysis is very quick.

In a screening meeting it is so interesting to observe how the Business Analyst draws out relevant technical information from my clients.

It is obvious they understand the commercial rationale behind a claim, and this together with how they link this to legislation, gives me the confidence that my clients are in professional hands.

Clients are impressed by this level of understanding and discussions about eligible projects freely flow.

As a Chartered Accountant, I am constantly looking to add value to what I can offer my clients; working with Jumpstart allows me to offer this specialist service.”
